

The Sunday Forum October 27, November 3, December 1 and 8

“Sharing our Faith: Learning to Tell Our Story to the Ones We Love.”

“Mommy/Daddy/Grandma/Grandpa... tell me about God”

“Really? You can’t sign up for the softball team because you are in church on Sunday mornings? Why do you do that?”

I never thought of you as one of those churchy types! What do you get out of it?”

Why is it so easy for us to tell people about our favorite restaurant, book, concert, or food; and so difficult for us to tell people about church, about God, about the ways that our relationship with God has changed our life? Join us at the Sunday Forum as we learn to tell Our Story to our children, grandchildren, siblings, parents, and friends.

We will build our own timelines – noting historical events and major life changes. We will think about the moments where we felt connected and when we felt alone. We will take note of our mentors and teachers, the people who were there with us through these moments. And we will think deeply about our sense of God’s presence, or absence in those moments. Through it all we will develop a narrative around our journey with God that will both deepen our own identity as God’s beloved, and help us to share our story with others. So when someone asks you... tell me about God... why do you go to church... what do you get out of it... you will be prepared to share something that might just spark something in the lives of the people about whom you care the most!
